He has been batting over .400, while McGuire has lost only one game since the season opened.

Don Anderson, a local semipro pitcher, was tried out by Keeley this afternoon.

Manager Keeley had practically decided to use McGuire and send Timmersman or Dennis to second base unless Stanley, the regular third baseman, had recovered sufficiently to take his usual position and permit O'Leary to take his stand at the key-stone bag.

The batting order:

Covington—Darringer, ss.; Chapman, cf.; Badel, rf.; Decker, lf.; Emery, 2b.; Ragsdale, c.; Pease, 3b.; Bagley, lb.; Sanford, p.

Chicago—O'Leary, 3b.; McGuire, 2b.; Kavanaugh, lf.; Kading, lb.; Gertenrich, cf.; Lynch, rf.; Farrell, ss.; McDonough, c.; Anderson, p.

Umpires—Wilson and Conklin.

SEMI-PROS CARD GAMES.

Manitowoc, one of the contenders in the pennant race of the Lake Shore league by reason of its double victory over the Riverviews last Sunday, will be the card at Gunther Park this afternoon, and a crowd of record size is expected. The Badgers will have Shaw, the south-paw pitcher, who won both of the games against the Riverviews, on the mound against Joe Bradshaw, and his appearance should prove a magnet. Another good game billed for today is the one at Schorling's grounds, where the Spaldings, with Art Anderson hurling, will tackle the American Giants.

Games scheduled for this afternoon by the semi-pros are as follows:

At Gunther Park—Manitowoc.

At American Giants' Park—Spaldings.

At West Side Park—Wilson A. C.

At Austin—Melrose Park.

At Fairview Park—Maricopa.

At Roseland Eclipse Park—Tornadoes.

given a chance. Art Anderson of Chicago is a pitcher recommended by Louis McConey, manager of the Chicago Lawndells. Jim Bagby of St. Louis, last year with the Kansas City Federals, wants to play the outfield for Quincy this year. Hugh Ulm of Humeston, Ia., wants to try out for any one of three positions, pitcher, first baseman or outfielder. The letters will be sent to Manager Kahl who will sift the chaff from the wheat. Perhaps he will get a good man out of the assortment. Here's hoping.

HUSTLERS SIGN CHICAGO SEMI-PRO

Dubuque, Ia., March 19.—"Rabbitt" Plass announced that he has signed a player for whom he has been negotiating for three weeks. He is Arthur E. Anderson, a shorstop who has played semi-pro ball around Chicago. He comes highly recommended by "Bill" Swanson and Umpire Eckman. The later states the youngster is much on the same order as Shortstop Breton, formerly of the Kansas

Thursday morning. However, he is still far from being in "the pink."
With but three regulars in good condition, Jude, Swanson and Erlewein, Plass is using pitchers to fill up the vacancies on the team. Lamline held down first Wednesday and made a good showing.
Infielder Anderson, who is believed to have tried out here several weeks ago, joined the club at Davenport Thursday, and will fill some gap for several days. Plass did not state who Anderson is, but it is more than likely that he is the Chicago boy who remained at Prairie du Chien with the club for several days before the season opened.
