

Jimmy Barton

Newport Boy Heads St. Louis Federals

Jimmy Barton, popular Chief Deputy to Campbell Circuit Clerk Newell, will leave Newport Monday for St. Louis, where he will play shortstop and be the captain of the St. Louis Federal team. Barton is a noted ballplayer, having played on a number of prominent teams and was manager last year of the Cincinnati team in the United States League. Covington was also after Barton to play on the team, but the Newport lad will now captain the team which will play the opening game in Covington against Covington Friday, May 2.

Capt. Barton, in speaking of local situations, stated that there is always considerable difficulty when there is a large number of Directors of a team, in each Director picking favorites among the players and thus causing confusion. He suggests that the Directors allow three of their number, probably their President and two Vice Presidents, to represent them in this matter of retaining or disposing of players and that this committee of three meet each day with the manager and take up such questions.

George Reggy, Cincinnati infielder, who played with the Hamilton Krebs last year, and "Red" Klein, of Cincinnati, who pitched for the Hamilton Krebs last year, will also leave Monday to sign up with the St. Louis Federals.

Manager Reisling, of the Mud Hens, was also after Jimmy Barton, who played in Columbus last summer under the name of Whalen. The little fellow was sent a telegram, but a few hours before he had signed at Cincinnati to play with the Anderson, Ind., Central League team. Reisling needs a shortstop badly, and wanted the little man. With McFarlan, Flournoy and Bernard for his outfield the Mud Hens will be better equipped in gardeners than for a long time.

written a "play with a purpose" and will himself assume the leading role. Practically reversing this process, James Barton, a leading player in the Grand Rapids Central league baseball team, is about to discard his uniform for the robes of priesthood. He has been a professional baseball player for years, but devoted his spare time to study.

James Barton, formerly of Grand Rapids and Terre Haute, has accepted the terms of Manager John J. Carney of the Sioux City team of the Western League.

Lincoln Players.

OMAHA, Neb., April 4.—Manager Holmes, of the Lincoln club completed a deal, whereby he secures the services of a new second baseman. Barton, the new man, is already with the team, and in today's contest batted in the last inning for Rugar. Second Baseman Shugart, who has been with the Lincoln team since April, will probably be transferred to another team in the league, a deal now being under way looking to that end. The new addition to Ducky's club has played in the east during the greater part of his baseball career, and comes to Holmes with a good reputation both in the field and with the bat. Ducky secured him from the Baltimore club, but he has played with Youngstown and last year was with the Rochester club of the Eastern league.

Barton is well recommended to the Nocks. His application, with terms attached, was presented some time ago and since Secretary Read has been inquiring into his ability. He has learned enough to convince him that Barton is the man wanted for the job. He is at present at his home in Frankfort, Ky., and is free to sign up for the coming season. Last season he played in one of the numerous leagues in his home state.

Cincinnati, O., April 10.—Manager Hugh McKinnon, who represents Mr. Ryan, owner of the local club in the United States league, finally came to terms with Jimmy Barton, the Newport boy, to act as field captain and manage the team for the coming season.

Picking the players of whom he had been told by other managers or who have reputations, Mr. Douglas selected the following to try out: James Barton of Newport, Ky., infielder, formerly with the St. Louis Federals; Archie Reed, outfielder, and Jo Bates, infielder, both of Medford, Okla., and formerly with Carlisle; Bob Corkill of Rock Island, Ill., outfielder, formerly in the Western South and Texas

In the possibility that the move to resuscitate the Hamilton team is a failure, Jacob Milders, one of the original backers of baseball in Hamilton, has arranged for an independent organization, composed of some crack ex-leaguers who can put up a classy article of ball. They include the following: Harry Kunkle, former catcher of the Hamilton team; Ed Cefaulde, of last year's Federals; Joe Reggy, Joe Flaherty and Doc Wiseman, formerly with the Hamilton Krebs; Allie Werner, a pitcher who is well known here; Orville Woodruff, of Indianapolis; Jack Pfister, of the Chicago Cubs; Jimmy Barton, one time manager of the Hamilton team and formerly with the Cincinnati and St. Louis Federals, and Humpty Badel, of last year's Kansas City Federals.

Portsmouth lands another experienced player and manager in James Barton, who had managed four clubs, including the Cincinnati team of the United States League, within the last few years.

JAMES BARTON
Mrg. Morristown Team

"I am not going to claim the pennant, but you can rest assured that the ball club who beats mine will know they have been in a ball game.

With Townsend, catcher, Rooney, 1b. Barton, 2b, Donaldson, ss, Mittwede, 3b. I think my infield will be as strong, if not stronger, than any other club in the league. With McConnell in rf, Grubbs, cf, and Austin, lf, the prospects in this department are not as strong as I would like to have them.

Speaking of managers and their changing of residence, three have pulled the fading away act in the Appalachian League this year. Tom Conway of Kingsport was the first to go, Carrol of Greenville the second, and now Morristown has tired of the Roosters keeping pace with the cellar team and as a result have released James Barton. Tom Rich has been named successor and celebrated his new authority by leading the Roosters to a win over the Soldiers yesterday.
