TALKS WITH WAGNER

Terre Haute, Ind., Feb. 22.—When Manager E. J. Anderson arrived here today for a conference with A. W. Wagner, owner of the local baseball franchise, he found among other things the signed contract of Ernest Calbert, one of the hold-overs from 1912.

This player is a puzzle. He can hit the TERRE HAUTE, Ind., June 2.—After the first inning Wetzel was unhittable and Springfield came from behind and won, 5 to 4. It was Madden's first game in several weeks. Calbert obtained a double and triple in four times up. Faultless fielding by the locals was the feature.

AVERAGES BOOSTED.

SPECIAL DISPATCH TO THE ENQUIRER.

Columbus, Ohio, June 6.—In one of the most weird games ever played here the Columbus Cubs defeated Steubenville to-day, 13 to 9. Four pitchers were used by the losers and all were hit hard. The batting of Snyder and Fohl featured, each getting four hits out of five times at bat.

BAT BOY PICKS UP BALL.

SPECIAL DISPATCH TO THE ENQUIRER.

Erie, Penn., July 12.—The Sailors continued their winning streak to-day, winning their twelfth straight game by defeating Steubenville, 9 to 6. Matteson lasted only two innings, and was relieved by Schetler. Nixon was chased in the first inning for missing Umpire Newhouse. In the fourth inning the Stubs scored three runs on a blocked ball, a bat boy picking up a wild throw from Scott to Schang and handing it to the catcher. There were three runners on and all crossed before Schetler received the ball and got back on the rubber. Score:

Calbert started the season with Terre Haute. He joined Steubenville in early June, and was with Steubenville until the Interstate League collapsed. He played one game with Kansas City in Pittsburgh on July 17, the day after Sapp, Montgomery and Watson (also from Steubenville) joined Pittsburgh in Pittsburgh. The day after that (July 18) he joined Huntington when they played in Portsmouth, OH.

While there is no direct proof that Calbert with KC was Ernest Calbert, the timing fits with the collapse of Steubenville and the appearance of the other Steubenville players in Pittsburgh.

Huntington 3, Portsmouth 1.

Portsmouth, O., July 18.—(Special.)—Becknell outpitched Tipple, but his own errors lost the game to Huntington 3 to 1 in a six-inning contest called on account of rain. Mammaux replaced Tipple in the sixth after two hits had given the Champs one run, and two were on bases. Edwards was caught napping and a double play ended the scoring. The score:
