

Frank O'Leary w/ Cleveland, possibly Pittsburgh
 Brother of George O'Leary and Charley O'Leary (MLB player)

THE CLEVELAND LEADER | Sunday, Apr 27, 1913 | Cleveland, OH | Page:14

Among the twenty-five men under Cy's control just now the most prominent are catcher Jack Kleinow, formerly of the Yankees and other major league clubs; pitchers L. Gallagher, formerly of Norfolk; pitcher Walter Miller, formerly of Sioux City; pitcher and outfielder Tom Gilroy, formerly of Mobile; first baseman Frank Kading, formerly of Warsaw and Pittsburgh; second baseman R. J. Latimore, formerly of Nashville; third baseman Frank O'Leary, formerly of Altoona; shortstop Frank Kerwith, formerly of Gunther's team of Chicago; outfielder W. Harley, formerly of Dayton; outfielder Wellmund, formerly of Syracuse, and third baseman W. Brentzen, a local semi-pro.

Leo McGraw, also of this city, who was a member of the Des Moines club, and who has received a trial with the Chicago White Sox, may also join "Cy's" club. McGraw is now trying to get his release from Des Moines.

Deacon Mighty Mad.

Manager Phillippe, of the Filipinos, belied his name of Deacon following the final defeat of his team. He was a mighty mad man, and before his anger had cooled he had stopped the salary of third baseman Brown and second baseman O'Leary. Both of these athletes immediately quit.

Phillippe expects to make some notable additions to his lineup within the next few days. He was in consultation with pitcher Fred Link, whom the Indian management has slated for a berth at Wilkes-Barre, and outfielder Kid Reilly, also of the tribe, last night, and has hopes of gathering both of these athletes into the smoketown fold. Both Manager Phillippe and President McCullough declare that the Filipinos will be in the fight for the flag.

In the way of strengthening, they have already signed up second baseman Jack Lewis, of the St. Paul Saints, and pitcher Elmer Knetzer, of the Brooklyn Trolley Dodgers. These players were expected to join the team at Cleveland today.

I think Frank O'Leary played for Pittsburgh in June 1913. O'Leary's first game with the club was in St. Louis, and his last game was in Indianapolis, immediately prior to this article.
