Jack Klelnow caught for the regulars.

Young has lined up five more candidates for his team, who have reputations to back them up. These five are Tracy Wilcox, pitcher, from Des Moines; Roy Poad, twirler from Ashtabula; Roy Kirby, shortstop, who played in the United States league, and one of Cleveland's promising young ball tossers; Bernard Patton, infielder, who played with San Antonio in the Texas league, and Cooper, a receiver from the Iron and Copper league.

LUDINGTON SIGNS POAD.

Pitcher Roy Poad of Toledo has been signed by Ludington. He played with the Mariners in the old Michigan State league. Ludington has released Pitcher Kelly.

"Roy Poad"

work must cease, the commissioners were told last night.

PITCHER POAD SIGNS WITH LUDINGTON CLUB

Former Star of Michigan State League Induced to Spend Season Here.

Local baseball fans will be interested to learn that Roy Poad, who was a member of the Ludington team in the Michigan State league in 1914, has been signed and is expected to report to Manager Knoll at once. Poad was considered one of the best pitchers in the State league and was credited by nearly every player in the league as having the greatest amount of stuff of any twirler in the league.

He was undoubtedly the prize hard luck twirler of the old Mariners' pitching staff. His record for that season showed him losing most of his games that were credited against him by one or two runs. It was a fair luck twirler of the old Mariners' pitching staff. His record for that season showed him losing most of his games that were credited against him by one or two runs. It was a fact and this will be substantiated by any local fan, that almost invariably when Poad was working, his teammates failed to give him anything in the way of support that would enable him to win consistently.

Poad has been playing industrial ball in and around Toledo, Ohio, since leaving here. He received other offers this year to play league ball but preferred to remain in Toledo where he holds a good position and play with an industrial team. Mrs. Poad is a former Ludington girl, the daughter of C. E. Kistler, and it was mainly through the desire of Mrs. Poad to spend the summer here that Pitcher Poad was induced to join the local club.
