"Eddie" Sabrie of Charleston, S. C., first baseman of last year's local team, reported at Exposition Park yesterday and immediately donned his playing togs and joined in practice. "Tuck" Turner, who pitched for Connie Mack's Athletics in 1911, has been signed and will report at Exposition Park this morning. J. E. Froelich, who was with the Chicago Cubs during the fag end of last season, has been signed to catch for the local team. He will report here today.

J. E. Porte, another receiver, who was with the Cincinnati United States League team in 1912, is expected here Monday. George Ramsey, manager of the Anderson, S. C., team, winners of the pennant in the South Carolina League last year, has also fixed his "John Hancock" to a contract and will be here today ready to begin practice.

Twenty-two players are out daily on Exposition field practicing. This number will be swelled early next week by several arrivals.

Doc Milliman, the Maroon pitcher who was released, is now playing with the Seaford, Del., team, which our ex-catcher, Eddie Porte, is running. Doc played centerfield on Thursday and had a hit. Porte played left field.

PENN. EXPECTS TO HAVE GOOD SEASON

Many Old Men Will Resume Positions, and There Is a Sufficiency of New Material.

[Special to The Times-Dispatch.]

PHILADELPHIA, January 23.—The University of Pennsylvania team of 1908 promises to be one of the good years. Penn has as pitchers from last year Simpson, Fennel, Twitmire and Collier. Brady is also in college, but it is understood he will not be a candidate. Of the above, Simpson did the most consistent work. Brady was good, but very erratic.

From the freshman team will come Chapman and Hesse, who are both left-handers, and particularly the former, with an excellent record from last year's freshman team.

Catchers—Porte and Allen Smith, the former a Mercersburg boy, the latter a DeLancey School boy. Porte was captain of this freshman team.

First-base—Pauxtis, who was a var-

MORE BARONS SIGNED

President James Monks of the local club has received the following contracts: John Geary, Hornell, N. Y., outfield; James Ward, Huntington, Pa.; J. McMahon, Boston, and W. D. Turtmier, pitchers; A. C. Lee, outfielder and Catcher Port. Turtmier and Port are former University of Pennsylvania players. The former was one of the best pitchers in col-

Catcher Porte of the university of Pennsylvania nine is out of the game for the rest of the season with an injured hand. In sliding home in the Lafayette game, he badly crushed the index finger of his right hand. His loss puts Pennsylvania in a big hole.

Philadelphia, December 21.—According to a statement made yesterday by Dr. Edgar F. Smith, chairman of the University of Pennsylvania faculty athletic committee, "Toots" Schultz, the star pitcher of last year's freshman baseball team, was not included among the players recently declared ineligible for professionalism. Dr. Smith said Schultz's record had been investigated with the others, but the committee found no record of his having played anything but amateur baseball. The correct list of Pennsylvania baseball players caught in the faculty net is: Catcher Porte, First Baseman Pauxtis, Second Baseman Londrigan, Right Fielder Spring and Pitcher Twitmire.

The saving of Schultz will be a great

Porte Signs Contract.

Catcher Alan Porte and Pitcher Twitmire, declared professionals at U. of P., have signed with Wilkes-Barre in the New York State league.

The Wilkes-Barre (New York league) club has signed the star Pennsylvania university batters—Pitcher Twitmire and Catcher Porte, both disqualified for professionalism.

BARONS' LATE ARRIVALS.

Among the Barons who arrived at Wilkesbarre yesterday are Outfielder Delmos Drake, of Finley, O.; Outfielder Bill Clarke, of Brookfield, Pa.; Catcher Edgar Porte, the University of Pennsylvania backstop. Drake and Clarke are good sized fellows, while Porte is of medium build. Concerning these new arrivals, the Wilkesbarre News says: "Drake is the only one of the three with professional experience. Clarke is a semi-professional player who comes well recom-

Two Players Let Out.

Manager Kittridge released pitcher Twitmire and catcher Porte, of the U. of P. battery, last night. Other releases will probably be handed out to-day or to-morrow. Twitmire and Porte were let out because Kittridge could not place them in the local lineup and because their salaries made several managers balk at taking them for the season with a Wilkes-Barre string attached. Kittridge, as previously stated in these columns, will farm out Hoffman, Perkins and Geary, if possible.

Allentown got away with the game with Pottsville, at Pottsville, yesterday, by the score of 4 to 3, scoring the winning run in their half of the eighth inning. Three pitchers were in the box for the locals, Dugan, Bennett and Twitmire, while the last named player's old catcher, Porte, officiated behind the bat. Both sides were long on errors.

They immediately got busy and solved the mystery of Riley's drops and turned the table most beautifully, making five runs in the sixth inning. With a man on second and third, Tyrone's new catcher, Porte, bunted a teaser to Riley who threw to Speer to catch Wilson at home, but he muffed and Wilson and Workman crossed the rubber in safety before he found the ball. Tyrone was now wide awake and showed up in their old time form, gaining three more runs and closing the sixth inning a tie. They made two more in the seventh.

Catcher Porte, who was let out by Wilkes-Barre early in the season, has caught on with the Trenton club of the Tri-State.

Trenton has a new catcher named Porte.

Catcher Porte, of Trenton, is the former University of Pennsylvania backstop who played with Hastings and other teams last summer. He was working in the Atlantic league this season.

this season. Several signed contracts have come in recently, among them those of Catcher Porte and Pitcher Hitchcock. Porte is said to be an unusually classy catcher. He joined the Trentons near the end of last season and worked with Harkins after Braun was let go. He is thought to have a bright future, and the receipt of his contract is a matter for unanimous joy here. Hitchcock is a husky youngster, who is reported to have all the different kinds of speed permitted in a minor league.

Clubs After Porte.

Manager Heckert of the Trenton Tri-State League club announced last evening that both the Bridgeport and Waterbury clubs of the Connecticut State League have offered to purchase Catcher Porte. The local pilot refuses to sell the backstop, however, but says he will insist on a trade if Porte is to be disposed of, as Bridgeport has a second baseman that he would like to have.

Porte Goes to Albany.

Catcher Porte has been sold to the Albany New York State League Club and will report at once to Manager Clarke at Princeton. Manager Clarke wanted a catcher, and having seen Porte work made an offer for him. Manager Heckert was loth to let him get away but having such men as Kerr and Smith to rely on he decided to let Porte go.

Another new pitcher will be added to the Albany team.

onels should aim to please.

Elmira fans well remember Catcher Porte, the former University of Pennsylvania receiver, who caught a season on Elmira's last Independent team, with Twittmire, making the Penny battery. Porte has gone to Albany. Manager Heckert of Trenton in the Tri-State sent him there, with assurance to Roaring Bill that Porte is a first class catcher. Heckert had too many catchers.

Catcher Porte of Albany is quite a youngster and a good one. He played baseball at Mercersburg. Yesterday he got one nice hit. The stolen bases captured by the Bingos were not his fault.

Manager Clarke of Albany has received offers for pitcher Otto Newlin and catcher Porte. The Wilmington, N. C., team is anxious to purchase both of these men, but nothing has yet been done.

Manager Clarke, of Albany, is to sell or trade Catcher Porte, the University of Pennsylvania backstop. Monte Cross has made him an offer, as has Springfield, in the Connecticut State league, for Porte.

ALBANY, Feb. 3.—Cy Perkins, who helped out at third base for the Springfield ball club last season, was yesterday traded to the Albany club for Catcher T. G. Porte. The deal was a straight one, no money being given on either end to boot. Negotiations for the catcher have been pending for a few days, as the Wilmington, N. C., club put in a bid for Porte's services.

Perkins is considered to be one of the best infielders in the New England League. He is fast and a good batter. His acquisition will greatly strengthen the local team.

Hogan After Catcher Porte.

Manager Hogan is after Catcher Porte and will no doubt sign him. Porte caught for Trenton several seasons ago. He is a former University of Pennsylvania backstop.

at the pitcher's box, each going to their respective benches. Mayor McClain walked to the pitcher's box and left drive the first Reach, which formally opened the Tri-State season here. The mayor's arm was strong and Catcher Porte, who did back stop duty for Lancaster, made an effort to pull down the aerial liner. After the official act was done Mayor McClain retired from the field. The ball was thrown to Manager Hogan, who tossed

The Lancaster Base Ball Club asks the anxious fans of Red Rose town not to be too hasty in passing judgment upon the team. None regrets more keenly the loss of our first four games than the club owners, and decision was promptly made that if the present players are unable to deliver the goods and hold their own in the circuit, others will be obtained who can fill the bill. Manager Hogan has explicit instructions on this point, and changes have already been made. Today Pitchers Watkins, Gaw and Delt-rich, Infielders Speary, Catcher Porte and Outfielder Mitchell were released.

Six more candidates joined Manager Groom's squad yesterday afternoon. They were "Jack" Cronin, pitcher; "Jack" Manning, shortstop; Harry Fleming, pitcher, (brother of Tom Fleming, scout of the Boston Nationals); Pitcher Jensen, of the University of Penna.; Catcher Porte, of the Texas League, and Pitcher Brown, of Philadelphia. The latter comes here with a recommendation from Manager Charles Doolin, of the Phillie Nationals who is pulling for him to make good in the league.

ar Arthur Brouthers, Matty Broderick do and Catcher Port, all old Tri-Staters, are lined up with the Reading United States league.

Charley Malay, with Elmira, and Catcher Porte with Albany, are playing on the Reading team, of the United States (outlaw) league. Both are going along nicely.

In the place of the suspended men Manning has signed Catcher Porte, of the Reading United States league club, and has arranged to secure Murphy, a backstop on the reserve list of the Philadelphia National league team. Porte broke into the game in Altoona on Saturday and, although he did not save a hit he played his position well. But one Babler pilfered a base in him during the game.

Most of the players will be in the party which under the direction of Catcher Porte will make a short barn-storming trip through the state. The route will be a short one, and in about a week the players will disband and go to their respective homes for the winter.

holders in the new organization.
The new club, after the proposed organization, will be under the direction of men who have not been connected with the club during the past year. Several names have been mentioned for president and these will be placed before the meeting and voted upon on Thursday evening.
President Free yesterday mailed out contracts to the following players:
Catchers—Raub, Porte and Whalen.
Pitchers—Culp, Williams, Milliman and Lloyd.
Infielder—Porter.
Outfielders—Swayne and Turner.
President Free mailed all of the contracts without consulting G. W.

Catcher Porte, the popular young catcher with the York club last season, was in this city Saturday and had a long talk with Manager Heckert. Porte wanted to know what was going to be done with him this season as Manager Heckert had said that Porte would not be with the club this year. Porte was told to report, however, and may become a regular this season.

Manager Leo Groom, of the Brooklyn (Independent United States League) club, announces the engagement of Infielder Matty Broderick, Pitcher Sam Fisher and Catcher Edgar Porte.
