Spencer was remorseful Thursday. He spoke to the men who are guarding him to prevent his taking his life, and asked them if they were sure Mrs. Laura Jacobson received the $175 he sent her Wednesday. That amount was stolen from Mrs. Jacobson by Spencer when he worked in her restaurant. He asked that the $175 be taken from the $260 which he had when he was arrested.

The money had been turned over to Carl Timmerman, a son of the woman, who is a pitcher for the Chicago White Sox.
