either side.

Paul Weller and John Thompson will be two additions from the Ohio State League, which will not be organized this year. Weller comes from the Portsmouth team, where he broke even as a pitcher last year and was forced to quit playing on account of illness.

John Thompson hails from Charleston, W. Va., in the same league, and won nineteen out of twenty-six games last year. That was his first year in professional company. He is 20 years of age, 6 feet tall and weighs 175 pounds. All of the above pitchers are right-handed men.

the South Atlantic League. Charles Pick, former Mountain State leaguer, now with the Washington, American league team, slated to play third base there next season, also may be in the line up. John Thompson, one of the phenoms of the Ohio State last season, will pitch one of the games against the Reds.

Ames, Douglass and Fittery are expected to be the Red pitchers. The lineup of the visitors will be the regulars.

has not performed in a manner this season that justified expectations.

John Thompson has agreed to come to Charleston for the games here with Cincinnati October 14 and 15. He will pitch one of the games and Al Leak will work the other, according to present arrangements. They have both agreed to come and the promoters of the contests have confidence in their promise.

the machine and badly lacerated.

John Thompson, Kenova's baseball pitcher, has been signed by the Maysville team of the Ohio State league. He left for the Kentucky town yesterday. John's enthusiastic friends here predict for him a successful year.

Mendell Thompson has leased several acres of ground near the city and is preparing to farm, when not pitching mail for Uncle Sam. John Thompson, the Charleston ball player, is getting up a little speed by grubbing for Mendell—we mean on the farm, of course. By the time he reports for duty John expects to have a muscle as strong as that of Goliath, who passed off this mundane sphere some years since.

John Thompson, who has reported to the Dallas team of the Texas league, writes that he is enjoying the best of health and likes the Dixie Land very much. John says his right wing is rounding to very nicely and that he expects to have a good year on the mound. He has met a number of his former baseball team mates down there and this somewhat relieved the monotony. His many friends hereabouts expect to hear good reports from the "Kenova Wonder" during the next few weeks.—Kenova Reporter.
