Throws right

Jimmy Allen, a local amateur, has been signed by Minneapolis as the fifteenth man of the team. He is believed to have the qualities of a good player and at least will be given a trial. George Ganzel is the only other amateur of the team, but he is known to be a good player. He is a brother of Charles Ganzel, of the Detroits, and his friends say he will soon rival his brother.

St. Paul Globe March 7, 1887

Baseball in the Northwest will make a beginning for the season about the first of next month, when the pitchers and catchers will report for duty and begin active practice, probably in the Washington rink. Allen, the new Minneapolis man who signed week before last, is a right-hand pitcher and is expected to prove a wonder. He is a natural ball player, never gets excited, and as a player resembles Sowders, that it is thought he will make a better player even than Sowders, who was recognized as one of the best players in the Northwestern League. Allen is number five among the pitchers. The other men will report on April 10, and the club will begin practice for the games with the Detroits. As before announced the Detroits will play three games in this city and three in St. Paul, but during their stay in the Northwest will stop at the West Hotel.

The Minneapolis Team.

Work upon the Minneapolis base ball grounds is progressing rapidly, and when completed that city will have the finest grounds in the Northwest. The fence has been set further back, thus enlarging the grounds to a considerable extent. The stand has been painted white, to match the fence, and the whole now presents a handsome appearance. The members of the club now in the city are George Gantzel, Elmer Foster, James Ailen and Frank Visner, C. H. Willis and William Tuckerman, the change pitchers, and John Shaw, the shortstop, the last three having arrived last evening. The rest of the team will arrive to-day or to-morrow, and will at once go into active training for the first game, which will be played with the Detroit club. Between April 19 and 25 the Detroit club will alternate between Minneapolis and St. Paul, playing one game a day in each city. The Minneapolis team will go to Winona April 15, and will play there the 15th and 16th.

St. Paul Globe April 1, 1887: 10.

Northwestern Players Released.

Secretary Quin, of the Northwestern league, has issued a circular in which he announces that Visner, Allen and Gantzel have been released by Minneapolis, the latter to go to the Evart club, in the Michi-

Kalamazoo's Team.

KALAMAZOO, April 16.—[Special.]—Kalamazoo base ball people have at last peeped and the result is the announcement of the great team as follows: Catchers, V. W. Ferris, of Hastings, and Harry Walker, of Laporte, Ind.; pitchers, J. G. Allen, of Minneapolis; James Flanigan, of New York City; Clarence Chalker, of Otsego; J. A. Lombard, of Kalamazoo; first base and manager.

Detroit Free Press April 17, 1889

Jimmie Allen of Minneapolis is a pitcher whose reputation is familiar to every base ball man. He played with his native city club in '87 and Sioux City last season. He is a ball player at every position on the field, and is the gem of the league. One of the first games of the season of '87 was pitched by him against Detroit, which was won by Detroit in ten innings by a score of 5 to 4. Allen is not a large man, but will be found to be "all there" in the "box" and at the plate. It was through Mr. Gantzel's efforts that he was secured.

Kalamazoo Gazette April 17, 1889

Little Allen has not been with us long enough to show what he can do with the sphere, but in the one game he pitched here he showed great speed and strong curves. It was the first game he has pitched this season and he was a little wild, but we expect to see him come to steady work and prove one of the best pitchers in the league.

The kid pitcher, James G. Allen, stands five feet four inches in height and weighs 130 pounds. He is a solid, wiry little fellow and full of endurance. He has just recovered from a severe attack of the Russian influenza, la grippe, and has not been crowded into any games, but given a little rest Mr. Allen is a native of Newark, N. J., was born on the 21st day of November, 1868. He took great delight in base ball when but a mere boy and studied and worked hard to become a successful twister of the sphere. In 1887 he played his first professional game, playing in the Northwestern league, pitching for Minneapolis against La Crosse. The game was played at La Crosse. This was his first league work. That season he got by hurt a batted ball and was laid off, but finished the season, pitching for the Grand Fork's club. He pitched for Sioux City in 1888, and in 1889 for Kalamazoo, Michigan and finished the season with the Hamilton, Ohio, club. Last season he pitched for the Palace team of Minneapolis, a team that made one of the most successful and brilliant records of any in the country, losing but two games during the season. Mr. Allerf was signed again this season and expected to pitch for the same team, but just as the Palace boys got ready to start he was taken sick. They waited a few weeks, but found they must have another pitcher and so released him. He came here out of a sick bed, but is rapidly recovering and his work in the box will be watched with much interest. He has already demonstrated speed and cleverness, and what he now needs is a little practice and training to get steadied down and to give endurance.

A Base Ball Battery That is Diminutive in Size but Mighty in Ball Science.

The smallest base ball battery in the profession to-day is composed of Edward A. Williams of this city, and James G. Allen, of Newark, both of whom are members of the Cedar Rapids, Iowa, base ball team. Williams is the catcher and Allen is the twirler. The former is 5 feet five inches in height and the latter is just one inch smaller. The Gazette of Cedar Rapids, calls them "a pair of kids," and further says: At times it looks laughable to see little Allen firing twisters past a club wielded by a good sized man behind whom little Williams is hiding. But it seldom happens that a ball gets away from Williams, He is little, but oh my! His fingers are very sticky and when they once get hold of a ball they stick right to it. He plays ball all the time. He is making a good record for himself and will do much towards winning honors for Cedar Rapids. In a recent game Williams had 3 runs, 4 hits, 6 put outs, 3 assists and no error.
