GAMES AT HOME.

The experimental game with the Globes at the fair grounds last Saturday was not a glittering success, the Bellaire men winning as they liked by a score of 14 to 0. The young players did pretty well, but the vets. were entirely out of practice and aided materially in increasing the score. The team will be revised and made to practice together, if the boys want to continue to experiment, and probably, with a few changes and a little team work, we may fix up a club yet. The playing of the Globes was excellent in all departments, and but one error marred their record. The battery work of Dunn and Westlake was exceptionally fine, fourteen of the Island club striking out. The Globes play a steady, even game, hit freely, and move as if they took an interest in the game. They can, without doubt, hold their own against any club within a hundred miles, barring the Alleghenys.

Wheeling Daily Intelligencer August 31, 1885

John Dunn and Joseph White, two of Bellaire's ball players, are about to leave for Poughkeepsie, N. Y., to play during the season.

Wheeling Daily Intelligencer April 20, 1886

James White is back from Poughkeepsie. He and John Dunn both resigned their places with the Poughkeepsie base ball club on account of the jealousy of the others.

The Base Ball Nine Complete.

John Dunn, of Bellaire, yesterday signed with the Wheeling base ball club, which completes the list. Dunn played last season with Steubenville and prior to that with the Bellaire Globes. He is a fair pitcher, good hitter, fast runner and is a valuable general player. His acquisition, along with that of Westlake, will give the home team a strong hold on the Bellaire patronage.

Wheeling Daily Intelligencer April 7, 1887

John E. Dunn, third baseman of the local club, arrived here from his home at Bellaire last night. Home Run Jack doesn't look like the same man who played the third bag for Wheeling in the tri-state league.
