Memphis Public Ledger April 3, 1888

CHARLESTON HAS SIGNED SIEBEL. Siebel is the young man who was discovered by Monk Cline in the wilds of Louisville. Memphis agreed to give him a trial in the box, and to make a contract with him in case he showed capacity, meanwhile paying his railroad fare and actual expenses. He came on to Memphis, and, although unused to city ways, his natural intelligence enabled him to catch on readily, and in ten days time no one could have detected that he had not always lived in a metropolis. He went with the Grays to Louisville, and pitched one game against the club hibernating in that village. His delivery was somewhat wild at first, which gave Louisville a winning lead, but in the later innings he be-came steadler and acquitted himself creditably. The Memphis management were satisfied that he had the making of a ball-player in him, and so retained him on probation, expecting to give him another chance later on. Yesterday he signed with Charleston, as already stated, much to the surprise and displeasure of the Memphis management.

TO-DAY'S GAME.

J. N. Sanders, who is here on trial as umpire in the Western association, will officiate at to-day's game between Minneapolis and Sioux City. If he gives good satisfaction after a thorough trial, he will probably be signed in place of Hurley, who left a vacancy by his resignation. Morrison will pitch for Minneapolis to-day, with Matt Keogan on the bench and Dugdale catch. Siebel, the "Soo" south-paw, and Hellman will be the battery for the visitors.

Ready for the Game Today? The last of the base ball team except Rudolf got in yesterday afternoon when Watkins came in from Nashville. Mr. Civill has eleven good men and the base ball team that strikes Owensboro now for a snap will find itself taken in. Mr. Civill got a telegram ye terday from Manager Stinson, of the Mutuals, of Louisville, saving they would surely be here today, and giving the names of the players. They are Seibel, Vetter, Dav. Reccius, Stein, Reeder, Peiffer, Shenkel and Davis. Every one of these is known by every base ball man in Owensboro for a fine player, and the two games to be played today and tomorrow will be the best that Owensboro has ever seen. The game will be called at 3:30 sharp.

a remarkably origin discovery. It appears that there is a man by the name of Henry Siebel, employed in the postoffice department at Louisville, who some years ago was one of the best ball players in that part of the country. Siebel played on the Sioux City team in 1891, and at that time was leader in the batting list of the Western League. He is a large man, stands 6 feet 2 inches and plays in the position of pitcher or fielder. He is one of the left-hand wonders and slipped out of the business to lead a more quiet life. Since Beard has been at him to return to the diamond, Siebel gradually thought the matter over Inst has decided to desert Uncle Sam's postal service for the diamond if the Rocnester club wants him bad enough to pay his price. Manager Shannon impressed the state-

The marriage of Miss Mayme Ratterman and Henry Siebel, Jr., was solemnized at the Cathedral Thursday morning. Owing to sickness in the groom's family the wedding was very quiet. The contracting parties are well known and popular young people, who have the best wishes of large numbers of friends for a happy and prosperous journey through life.

Huskers in those years.

For the past seventeen years Siebel has been a mail carrier in Louisville. When asked last night what brought him to Sioux City, he said his only excuse was to meet some of the old guard who used to "pull" for him when his left arm was working right at Evans park. And if it does a man's heart good to discover that he has not been forgotten after a lapse of twenty years Siebel must feel well repaid for his trip to Sioux City. He was given the glad hand wherever his presence was made known; his introduction to old time friends was the signal for a genuine fanning bee.

Siebel, who was married shortly after he quit baseball, lost his wife about two years ago.
